

PUTTING THE COUNTRY TOGETHER RIGHT

Daddy was busy making the last of the holiday reservations for the family's long awaited road trip. As he was on hold, his little girl came up to him and asked if Canada was very big. He assured her it was a very large country with 10 provinces and 3 territories. "How will you find Grandma's house in such a big country?" asked the little one. "Well we'll use the GPS in the car. It will tell us where to turn."

After a moment of contemplation the youngster tapped on his knee again. "Daddy, what does Canada look like?" Thinking for a moment, he grabbed travel magazine from the pile. and sure enough, inside was a page with a map of Canada on it. Showing her the page he had just torn out of the magazine, he had a brainstorm on how to keep her occupied for a while. Tearing the map into pieces, he handed it to his daughter and said, "Here are all the pieces. Do you think you can fit them all back together correctly?"

Liking puzzles the little gal took the pieces into her room to work on them. Before long, she was back at Daddy's knee with the map with the pieces all properly arranged and taped in place.

Surprised, her father asked how she had been able to complete the project so quickly.

Smiling brightly, she turned the page over as she said. "When I saw this picture of Jesus on the back, it was easy. I just put Him back together right, I turned the page over and the whole country had come together right also."
